ROCKY MOUNTAIN AUDIO VIDEO EXPO

Thank you for your interest in speaking at the Rocky Mountain Audio Video Expo (AVX), the region's largest audio visual, technology, training, audio, video and digital media show. We are looking for dynamic speakers who can educate and excite our attendees about new advances in these fields. And you are the expert!

AVX features over 150 manufacturer exhibits and seminars, highlighting new production techniques, delivery media, broadcasting, and information technology solutions, along with ways to make companies highly competitive. We invite you to submit ideas for key topics that are relevant right now, and can help companies stay ahead of their competition.

Each year we focus on how new technologies can help you stay knowledgeable, relevant, and on the leading edge of your business. In addition, the local pros who sponsor AVX will be available to recommend the tools you need to get new clients and grow your business.

We seek high-level speakers with a proven track record of giving presentations to an engaged audience, including experts in breakthrough technologies, new forms of communication, and the future of media.

Topic Suggestions:

- Broadcasting Today
- AV and IT Collaboration
- Technology in Healthcare
- Worship and Government Media
- Video Production Techniques
- Covering and Recording Live Events
